

Global Learning Experience

What is a GLE?

- A learning experience with concrete goals and deliverables, in which DePaul students in your class interact with students from a partner international institution.

Who can do a GLE?

- Any DePaul faculty member can participate in a GLE in a DePaul class.

Does a GLE need to involve the entire class for the entire quarter?

- GLEs vary from one simple shared assignment all the way to an entire co-taught course.

How do I learn more about doing a GLE in my class?

- Go to go.depaul.edu/gle or Google “DePaul GLE.”
- For any additional questions, call Rosi Leon at (312) 362-6644 or email rleon1@depaul.edu.

Is there formal training offered for GLE?

- There are two training cycles offered throughout the year in fall and spring. Exact deadlines and dates are found at go.depaul.edu/gle.

Do I need to have an international partner established before attending a GLE training?

- Leveraging your existing personal or professional international contacts will maximize the success of your GLE. However, the Office of Global Engagement can assist you in finding a partner if you do not currently have one. You will need to have a partner identified before submitting a formal GLE proposal.

Is there funding for travel to prepare for a GLE?

- After attending a training cycle you can submit a formal proposal for a GLE. There are grants available for proposals that are approved by the Comprehensive Internationalization Committee. More information on proposal preparation, submission and grant amount can be found at go.depaul.edu/gle.
