It is important that all involved parties have a shared understanding of how DePaul views the presence of minor students in campus housing, and how DePaul will approach certain issues, should they arise, in this collegiate environment. The following are expectations regarding minor students residing in campus housing:

1. DePaul housing is a living environment that is designed for college students who are prepared to live away from home. It is essential to the goals and normal operations and of campus housing that all students behave maturely and responsibly.
2. DePaul Housing staff members at DePaul University are available to help provide a healthy and safe environment. All student behavior is reviewed according to policies and procedures set forth by DePaul University.
3. DePaul encourages parents/guardians to have a candid discussion with their minor students about the realities of living away from home in a collegiate environment.
