Winter Break is Almost Here!

In just a few weeks, you will be finishing the 2016 fall quarter at DePaul University. As you begin to end classes and prepare for your final exams, the Department of Housing Services begins to prepare for fall quarter move-out and residence hall closures. Please start creating a move-out plan based on the important dates and information provided in this edition of the Blue Beat.

Students living in Belden-Racine Hall*, Clifton-Fullerton Hall, University Hall, Munroe Hall, Seton Hall and Corcoran Hall are required to vacate their rooms by noon on Wednesday, November 23, 2016 so halls can close over winter break. Please review the below lists regarding what you do and do not need to do to ensure a successful fall quarter move-out. If you have additional questions, please email us at housing@depaul.edu, call our office at (773) 325-7196 or visit the fall move-out tips page of our website here.

*Preapproved students enrolled in December Intersession courses may remain in Belden-Racine Hall until 5 p.m. on Friday, December 16, 2016.
November Resident Reminders:

- Personal property: DePaul University is not liable for damaged, stolen or missing property. In an effort to safeguard personal belongings, remember to:
  - Always lock doors.
  - Be aware of and report suspicious behavior.
  - Confirm that your personal property is insured through your parent/guardian’s policy or renters’ insurance.

- Meal plans: Resident meal plans can only be reduced within the first two weeks of an academic quarter. The winter quarter deadline for lowering resident meal plans is Friday, January 13, 2017. Find more details here.

- Returning to campus winter quarter: Residents may return to their residence halls beginning at 9 a.m. on Sunday, January 1. The Department of Housing Services will send a check-in email to all residents the last week of December. This email is to confirm your intent to return for winter quarter. If you do not check-in, you will be required to visit your area office to obtain hall access.

Have a safe and wonderful winter break, residents!
