

Religious Holidays Calendar, AY2025-2028

This interfaith calendar provides information on select world religious holidays that fall within DePaul's academic calendar and may therefore effect DePaul students, faculty, and staff. Suggestions for accommodating students, faculty, and staff who are celebrating these holidays are included for each listed holiday.

Accommodations Key for ways in which faculty and staff might best accommodate the needs of those celebrating religious holidays:

1. Refrain from scheduling important/mandatory events, activities, or deadlines on this date.
2. Students, staff, and faculty within this tradition often request this day off and it is suggested that such requests be honored. Please refer to Human Resources guidelines for such accommodations.
3. Students, staff, and faculty may be fasting, suggesting that activities and events do not include food.
4. Please consider dietary restrictions that may apply (including kosher, halal, vegetarian, etc.).
5. Jewish and Muslim holidays begin at sundown. Offering additional time for students, faculty, and staff to prepare and/or travel prior to sundown is suggested.
