Membership in Organizations

Category: Financial Affairs
Responsible Department: Accounts Payable Responsible Officer: Manager of Accounts Payable
Effective Date: 3/22/2017

Policy Summary
This policy explains the various types of memberships to which faculty and staff may request payment of membership fees and related expenses.

Scope
This policy affects the following groups of the University:

- Entire University Community

This policy affects all members of the university community.

Policy
Generally, membership dues and fees associated with professional organizations and associations are the responsibility of the individual faculty or professional staff member. In some instances and at the discretion of the approving budget manager, the university will reimburse or pay for membership dues and fees for professional organizations and associations provided they are relevant to the university’s activities. Such membership dues and fees are considered a normal business expense and approval is obtained consistent with other payment requests. Examples of professional organizations and associations include business, technical and professional organizations such as the National Association of College and University Business Officers (NACUBO) and the Higher Education User Group (HEUG).

The university will not reimburse or pay for membership dues and fees associated with private clubs and organizations without one-time approval from the Provost, Executive Vice President or the President of the university using the Private Club Membership Authorization Form. Examples of private clubs and organizations include civic or community organizations such as the Union League Club of Chicago or the University Club of Chicago.

Procedures
Membership Payment Approval
Professional organizations and associations membership dues and fees are considered a normal business expense and require approval and documentation consistent with routine payment processing.

Private club and organization memberships require one-time approval from the Provost, Executive Vice President or President of the university. Approvals must be documented using the Private Club Membership Authorization Form and accompany the first payment request. Ongoing private membership dues and other expenses (e.g., meals and entertainment) require approval and documentation consistent with routine payment processing.
