DePaul University
Preventing Sexual Violence in Higher Education Act Annual Report

November 1, 2017

I. Introduction and Background

DePaul University is an urban, Catholic and Vincentian institution of higher education. DePaul has two main campuses in Chicago: the Loop campus and the Lincoln Park campus. DePaul also has a small commuter-based campus near O'Hare airport, and operates a nursing program out of the Rosalind Franklin University of Medicine and Science in North Chicago.

DePaul is committed to providing an environment that is free from all forms of discrimination and harassment, including sexual and relationship violence. Every member of the DePaul university community has the right to safety from the threat of sexual and relationship violence. Grounded in our commitment to valuing the dignity of all people, DePaul fosters a culture of respect and safety by implementing best practices in education, prevention, and holistic support and care. DePaul does not tolerate sexual and relationship violence and addresses incidents swiftly and equitably.

This Annual Report was prepared in accordance with 110 ILCS 205/9.21(b). Any terms not otherwise defined herein are defined according to 110 ILCS 155/5. Because this Annual Report was prepared for a specific purpose, according to specific requirements, and using specific definitions, it is possible that certain information in this Annual Report may not appear to be consistent with information reported in other contexts, for other purposes. For example, the definition of "Sexual Violence" in ILCS 155/5 is different than the definition of "Sexual Offense" for purposes of DePaul's compliance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act ("Clery Act"). Similarly, DePaul's Sexual and Relationship Violence Prevention and Response policy prohibits conduct that is not covered by the Act.

This Annual Report includes information for all of DePaul University's campuses. All of DePaul University's policies and procedures are equally applicable to each of its campuses. Except with respect to crimes and incidents reported in DePaul University's Annual Security Report for purposes of the Clery Act, DePaul University does not systematically track reports to the Title IX Coordinator, responsible employees or confidential and anonymous resources according to Clery geography.

Sections II-III of this Annual Report identify policies and documents that are current as of the date of submission of this Annual Report.

Sections IV and V of this Annual Report contain data from 2016 that is current as of the date of submission of this Annual Report. In Section V, incidents that span multiple years are included only in the applicable reporting categories. For example, if a report was received in 2015, but resolved through the Student Conduct Process in 2016, it is only included in the latter category. Conversely, if a report was received in 2016, but not resolved through the Student Conduct Process until 2017, it is only included in the former category.

Readers are cautioned to carefully read the Annual Report in its entirety in order to understand the full context of the report. Readers are asked to pay special attention to the "Additional Information" provided in Section V(H).
II. Comprehensive Policy
110 ILCS 205/9.21(b)(1)

DePaul University's "comprehensive policy" in accordance with 110 ILCS 155/10 includes:

(1) Sexual and Relationship Violence Prevention and Response policy
(2) Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment policy
(3) Student Conduct Process

All three documents are attached to this Annual Report as Exhibits A-C.

DePaul has additional policies and procedures for addressing sexual and relationship violence through other complaint resolution procedures where the referred individual is not a student. Because this conduct is not within the scope of the Act, these policies and procedures are not included within this Annual Report.

III. Written Notification
110 ILCS 205/9.21(b)(2)

DePaul provides a written information sheet of rights and options to all individuals involved in an allegation of sexual or relationship violence, including both complainants and referred individuals. This "Sexual and Relationship Violence Information Sheet," which functions as the "concise, written notification of…rights and options" for students in accordance with 110 ILCS 155/15(a), is attached to this Annual Report as Exhibit D.

IV. Primary Prevention and Awareness Programming
110 ILCS 205/9.21(b)(3)

Guided by DePaul University's Catholic, Vincentian mission, multiple departments across the University, including the Office of Health Promotion & Wellness, Residential Education, and the Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity, offer a wide range of preventative and awareness programming on issues such as sexual violence, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, consent, healthy relationships and bystander intervention to students and other members of the DePaul community. This work is made possible through close collaborations between campus departments, student organizations, student leaders, individual students, community agencies and local law enforcement.
A list of DePaul's primary prevention and awareness programming for students, or groups that would include students, in accordance with 110 ILCS 155/30(b), including information about participation, where applicable, is attached as Exhibit E. Exhibit E also includes information regarding primary prevention and awareness programming for employees. For programming aimed at multiple audiences, the data on participants includes all participants, not just students.

V. Other Data
110 ILCS 205/9.21(b)(4-10)

As noted above, except with respect to crimes and incidents reported in DePaul University's Annual Security Report for purposes of the Clery Act, DePaul University does not systematically track reports to the Title IX Coordinator, responsible employees or confidential and anonymous resources according to Clery geography. As such, the data in this section is not limited according to Clery geography.

Unless otherwise noted, the data in this section only includes reports made by DePaul students (i.e., reports in which a DePaul student is the complaining individual) or about DePaul students (i.e., reports in which a DePaul student is the referred individual).

A. Reports made by or about DePaul students
110 ILCS 205/9.21(b)(4)

In 2016, DePaul's Title IX Coordinator received the following reports made by or about DePaul students:

- 72 reports of sexual violence
- 46 reports of domestic violence or dating violence
- 11 reports of stalking

These reports either were made directly to the Title IX Coordinator or were made to the Title IX Coordinator through a responsible employee. The data in this section does not intentionally include reports made to confidential reporting resources (see below).

B. Confidential and anonymous reports
110 ILCS 205/9.21(b)(5)

In 2016, confidential reporting resources reported aggregate information about confidential or anonymous reports to the Title IX Coordinator as follows:

- 33 confidential or anonymous reports of sexual violence
- 11 confidential or anonymous reports of domestic violence or dating violence
- 0 confidential or anonymous reports of stalking

DePaul collects aggregate information about confidential and anonymous reports from designated confidential reporting resources on a monthly basis. Separately, confidential reporting resources with a professional privilege report information to the extent possible consistent with that privilege. Because these reports were collected through various confidential reporting resources, DePaul does not have information regarding the status of individuals involved (student, employee, not a member of the DePaul community), when the incident occurred, or where the incident occurred. Moreover, given the nature of confidential and anonymous reporting, DePaul cannot be certain whether any of these reports are also included in the reports otherwise received by the Title IX Coordinator, and therefore are counted more than once for purposes of the data in this Annual Report.
C. Requests not to proceed
110 ILCS 205/9.21(6)

In 2016, individuals involved in matters reported to the Title IX Coordinator by or about DePaul students requested not to proceed with a Student Conduct Process or other complaint resolution procedure as follows:

- 2 individuals requested not to move forward with a complaint resolution procedure in a matter involving sexual violence
- 3 individuals requested not to move forward with a complaint resolution procedure in a matter involving domestic violence or dating violence
- 0 individuals requested not to move forward with a complaint resolution procedure in a matter involving stalking

The data in this section only includes situations in which an individual affirmatively requested not to proceed with a complaint resolution procedure and did not change that request. The data in this section does not include situations in which an individual did not respond to outreach from the Title IX Coordinator. In some instances, the University may decide that it must proceed with further investigation or a complaint resolution procedure even though an individual requests not to proceed. As such, the data in this section should not be interpreted to mean that a matter did or did not proceed with an investigation or complaint resolution procedure despite the request made by an individual.

Furthermore, individuals may request not to proceed with a complaint resolution procedure at any point in the process (e.g., before an investigation, after an investigation, etc.). As such, the data in this section should also not be interpreted to necessarily mean that a matter was not investigated prior to a request not to proceed, or that a complaint resolution procedure was not considered prior to a request not to proceed.

D. Investigations
110 ILCS 205/9.21(b)(7)

DePaul investigates all matters reported to the Title IX Coordinator to the extent possible, taking into account a variety of considerations. These include, for example:

- Lack of response from a complainant to outreach;
- An affirmative request not to proceed with an investigation; and
- Reports about individuals who are not members of the DePaul community (regarding current or historical conduct).

Subject to these considerations, in 2016, DePaul initiated investigations pursuant to university policy that were reported to the Title IX Coordinator by DePaul students or about DePaul students as follows:

- 13 investigations involving sexual violence
- 4 investigations involving domestic violence or dating violence
- 1 investigation involving stalking

A more detailed explanation as to why a report made by or about a DePaul student is not included in this data is detailed below.
E. Referrals to law enforcement
110 ILCS 205/9.21(b)(8)

All individuals who bring forth matters involving sexual or relationship violence are informed about their options with respect to reporting to law enforcement, if the individuals chooses to do so. See Exhibit D. DePaul is always available to assist individuals with reporting to local law enforcement if requested to do so. In 2016, DePaul is aware of the following reports made by or about DePaul students that resulted in a report also being made to local or State law enforcement:

- 6 reports involving sexual violence
- 1 report involving domestic violence or dating violence
- 1 report involving stalking

In many instances, DePaul may not be aware as to whether an individual makes, or previously has made, a report to local or State law enforcement. The data in this section does not include referrals for orders of protection. The data in this section does not include referrals that may have been made with the assistance of confidential reporting resources.

F. Student Conduct Process matters
110 ILCS 205/9.21(b)(9)

In 2016, DePaul reviewed potential policy violations for matters related to sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking through the Student Conduct Process as follows:

- 5 Student Conduct Process matters involving sexual violence
- 1 Student Conduct Process matter involving domestic violence or dating violence
- 2 Student Conduct Process matters involving stalking

An explanation as to why a report made by or about a DePaul student, or an investigation conducted regarding a report made by or about a DePaul student, would not be reviewed through the Student Conduct Process is detailed below.

G. Sanctions
110 ILCS 205/9.21(b)(10)

In 2016, students received sanctions through DePaul's Student Conduct Process for matters related to sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking as follows:

- 2 students were dismissed through the Student Conduct Process for matters involving sexual violence
- 3 students were suspended through the Student Conduct Process for matters involving sexual violence
- 1 student received other discipline through the Student Conduct Process for a matter involving stalking

The remaining 2 students who participated in the Student Conduct Process for matters involving sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking (1 student for a matter involving domestic violence or dating violence and 1 student for a matter involving stalking) were found "not in violation." This means that based on the information available at the time, it was determined through a hearing that it was more likely than not that the student was not in violation of the policy at issue.
H. Additional information

As noted above, some reports of sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking made by or about DePaul students to the Title IX Coordinator did not proceed to investigation or were not reviewed through the Student Conduct Process.

As noted above, some of these incidents did not proceed because an individual affirmatively requested not to proceed with an investigation or, after an investigation, affirmatively requested not to proceed with a Student Conduct Process, and there were no other circumstances requiring such further action.

Additionally, as also noted above, timing may also impact the data in this report (i.e.—an incident was reported in 2015 but investigated or reviewed through the Student Conduct Process in 2016 or reported in 2016 but investigated or reviewed through the Student Conduct Process in 2017).

However, as mentioned above, there are also numerous other reasons as to why reports were not fully investigated or did not proceed through the Student Conduct Process. These include, for example:

- An individual did not respond to initial or follow-up outreach from the Title IX Coordinator, so no further information was available.
- An individual was reporting an incident that was not about a DePaul student and thus, whether or not there was an investigation, the incident was not appropriate for review through the Student Conduct Process. This could include reports about DePaul employees, which would be reviewed through other complaint resolution procedures at DePaul, as well as reports about individuals who are not members of the DePaul community. These reports could involve current conduct or conduct that occurred at any time in the past.
- After investigation, there was insufficient information to indicate that the facts presented would indicate a violation of a DePaul policy by a student.

In all instances, however, if requested, DePaul worked with students to provide various appropriate interim measures, permanent remedies, and other assistance. These included, for example:

- Specific education or training efforts;
- Access to medical or counseling services;
- Imposition of an institutional no-contact directive and related assistance to support that directive;
- Access to legal resources, including assistance in obtaining a civil protection order;
- Access to emergency funds and supplies (such as food);
- Rescheduling exams or assignments;
- Changes in class schedule;
- Changes in a student's on-campus residence;
- Withdrawal assistance and assisting with voluntary leaves of absence;
- Providing an escort between classes, work or other activities;
- Coordination with reporting at other institutions; and
- An interim suspension or other restriction pending the outcome of a conduct proceeding.

B. Information Regarding Title IX

1. Notice of Non-Discrimination

Title IX of the Education Amendment of 1972 (commonly known as "Title IX") is a federal law that prohibits sex discrimination on the basis of sex in federally funded education programs and activities. Sex discrimination includes sexual harassment, and sexual and relationship violence.

DePaul does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its educational, extra- and co-curricular, athletic, or other programs or activity, including admissions, or in the context of employment.

DePaul provides institutional processes, remedies and outcomes. Conduct that violates this policy may also constitute criminal conduct under local, state or federal laws. Individuals always have the option to report prohibited conduct to the appropriate law enforcement agencies. As detailed in the Crime Reporting and Clery Act Compliance policy, DePaul will assist an individual with reporting to local law enforcement if requested to do so.

Inquiries or complaints concerning the application of this policy or Title IX generally at DePaul should be referred to the Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity (OIDE), whose contact information is below. Individuals also have the right to contact the United States Department of Education’s Office for Civil Rights.

4. Sexual Violence Prevention and Response Working Group

DePaul has established a Sexual Violence Prevention and Response Working Group. The purpose of the Working Group is to encourage collaboration and information-sharing across the university regarding DePaul's policies, procedures, programming, training, and messaging. The Working Group will continually review best practices in prevention, awareness, education and response and will contribute to the implementation of such best practices at DePaul.

The Working Group is chaired by the Title IX Coordinator. The Working Group supports the work of the Title IX Coordinator. The Working Group consists of representatives from Faculty Council, Staff Council and Student Government Association, as well as representatives of numerous departments and offices that have a role in addressing prevention and response to sexual and relationship violence.

The Working Group meets at least two times each academic year. The Working Group will invite the following individuals to its meetings: (a) a representative from a community-based sexual assault crisis center; (b) a representative from a community-based domestic violence agency; (c) a representative from the Chicago Police Department; and (d) a representative from the State's Attorney's office.

Training regarding sexual and relationship violence is made available to members of the Working Group.

C. Prohibited Conduct

DePaul University strictly prohibits sexual and relationship violence and threats of sexual and relationship violence. Sexual and relationship violence means the specific behaviors detailed below.

Sexual and relationship violence can occur in many different ways, including through physical force, intimidation, manipulation, and coercion. This may include the voluntary or involuntary use of drugs and/or alcohol that renders an individual unable to give consent. Sexual and relationship violence can occur within personal relationships, including those that are intimate, professional, familial, or friendly. In fact, sexual violence involving strangers constitutes only a small percentage of cases. Individuals of any sex, sexual orientation, or gender identity may experience sexual or relationship violence.

An individual who is uncertain about whether their experience meets one of the definitions below is encouraged to consult with the Title IX Coordinator or another reporting resource. In all instances, DePaul encourages reporting of unwelcome conduct whether or not it appears to meet one of the definitions stated below. With this report, DePaul can assist the individual in identifying resources and available courses of action based on the conduct at issue.

Sex Offense (including Sexual Assault). Sex Offense means any sexual act directed against another person without consent, including instances where the individual is incapable of giving consent as defined below.

Sexual Offenses include, but are not limited to, rape, forcible sodomy, sexual assault with an object, fondling or kissing without consent, incest, statutory rape, the threat of sexual assault, sexual abuse, or any unwanted physical contact of a sexual nature, that occurs without consent by all the individuals involved. Many sex offenses are also sometimes collectively referred to as sexual assault.

Sexual Misconduct. Sexual Misconduct means taking sexual advantage of another person for the benefit of oneself or a third party when consent is not present. This includes, but is not limited to,

- sexual voyeurism or permitting others to witness or observe the sexual or intimate activity of another person;
- indecent or lewd exposure;
- recording any person engaged in sexual or intimate activity in a private space;
- distributing sexual or intimate information, images or recordings about another person; or
- inducing incapacitation in another person with the intent to engage in sexual conduct, regardless of whether prohibited sexual conduct actually occurs.

Domestic Violence. Domestic Violence means violence committed by a family or household member. A family or household member includes parents, children, current or former spouses, a person with whom the reporting/affected individual shares a child in common, a person who is cohabitating with or has cohabitated with the reporting/affected individual, and others as defined by Illinois law. Domestic violence can be a single event or a pattern of behavior.

Dating Violence. Dating Violence means violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the reporting/affected individual (i.e., a relationship which is characterized by the expectation of affection or sexual involvement between the parties); and where the existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on a consideration of factors such as the length of the relationship, the type of relationship, and the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship. Dating Violence can be a single event or a pattern of behavior.

Domestic and dating violence can encompass a broad range of behavior, including but not limited to:

- Physical violence or assault;
- Sexual violence;
- Emotional violence;
- Economic abuse;
- Threats;
- Property damage; and
- Violence or threat of violence to one's self, one's sexual or romantic partner, and/or to the family members or friends of the sexual or romantic partner.

Stalking. Stalking means a course of conduct (i.e. two or more acts) directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to fear for their safety or the safety of others; or to suffer substantial emotional distress.

Individuals who would like to obtain more information about laws related to sexual and relationship violence in the State of Illinois can find that information here.

D. Consent

At DePaul, consent is defined as unambiguous and freely given agreement to move forward with a specific sexual request, act, or experience. Consent cannot be obtained from individuals who are unable to understand the nature of the activity or give consent due to being asleep, unconscious, underage, or due to having a temporary or permanent mental or physical incapacity, including as a result of drug or alcohol use.
Consent is an affirmative act, not a lack of action. Lack of verbal or physical resistance or submission as the result of force, coercion, duress, or threat thereof does not constitute consent. The absence of "no" or "stop" should never be interpreted as implicit consent, if consent is otherwise unclear. An individual's manner of dress does not constitute consent. Consent to past sexual activity or a past sexual relationship does not constitute consent. Consent to engage in sexual activity with one individual does not constitute consent to engage in sexual activity with another individual. Resistance is not required to demonstrate lack of consent. Consent can be withdrawn at any time.

E. Reporting

Individuals who have experienced sexual and relationship violence - whether on-campus or off-campus and whether by a member of the DePaul community or not - are strongly encouraged to report the incident. A report serves as a means of documenting the incident and allows for immediate response by the university. DePaul is committed to offering a secure and supportive environment for individuals who report incidents of sexual and relationship violence to receive resources and consider all available options.

An individual's options for reporting, including for making confidential reports, are detailed below. Reports from third-parties who have not themselves been involved in an instance of sexual and relationship violence are accepted. Reports from third-parties who are not affiliated with DePaul are accepted. More information about the ways in which DePaul address issues of privacy issues and confidentiality requests with respect to reports made to individuals other than confidential reporting resources is detailed further below. In most circumstances, and except as otherwise detailed below, a report to a confidential reporting resource will not be reported to Public Safety or the Title IX Coordinator and will not begin any further response to the report from DePaul.

Survivor Support Advocates provide support to individuals. This includes students and employees, and includes complainants, potential referred individuals, and others. This support may include informing individuals of their options and available resources and, if requested by the individual, assisting the individual with navigating DePaul or external processes.

Survivor Support Advocates are available for confidential reporting to the extent permissible by law. When providing support to student complainants, Survivor Support Advocates are also acting in the role of a "confidential advisor" pursuant to the Illinois Preventing Sexual Violence in Higher Education Act. In these instances, information reported to Survivor Support Advocates will remain confidential unless (a) the individual consents to the disclosure of the communication in writing; (b) failure to disclose the communication would violate state or federal law; or (c) failure to disclose would result in a clear, imminent risk of serious physical injury to or death of the individual or another person.

On a monthly basis, Survivor Support Advocates will report the number and type of incidents reported exclusively to them to the Title IX Coordinator. In making these reports, care will be taken to avoid reporting personally identifiable information.

All Survivor Support Advocates receive at least 40 hours of training on sexual violence and participate in at least six hours of additional training annually. Survivor Support Advocates also participate in periodic training on University processes related to sexual and relationship violence.

5. Employee Reporting Responsibilities

Unless otherwise designated as a confidential reporting resource above, all DePaul faculty, staff, and student employees are required to promptly report to the Title IX Coordinator all incidents of sex discrimination and sexual harassment, including sexual and relationship violence that are reported to them.

The information that must be disclosed to the Title IX Coordinator includes:

- the name of the person who reported the information to the employee;
- the name of the alleged affected individual, if different than the individual reporting;
- the name of the alleged perpetrator (if known),
- the names of others involved; and
- any relevant facts that have been provided, such as date, time, and location.

The employee will also provide the reporting individual with a Sexual and Relationship Violence Information Sheet.

Employees should also:

- Familiarize themselves with these confidential reporting resources.
- Inform the individual disclosing an issue related to sexual or relationship violence of their obligation to report any information shared to the Title IX Coordinator.
- Connect the individual with a confidential resource if the individual wishes to speak to someone confidentially.

Employees may also have other reporting obligations pursuant to other DePaul policies including:

- Crime Reporting and Clery Act Compliance
- Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment
- Reporting Misconduct

More information about reporting responsibilities regarding sexual and relationship violence for all DePaul employees and confidential reporting options can be found here.

F. Sexual and Relationship Violence Information Sheet

At the time an individual makes a report of sexual or relationship violence-whether to Public Safety, the Title IX Coordinator, a confidential reporting resource or any other DePaul employee-the individual will be provided with the following information, in writing:

1. A summary of the information in this policy.
2. Information about options for-and, if necessary, how DePaul will provide assistance with-further confidential reporting, reporting to the Title IX Coordinator, reporting to Public Safety, and reporting to local law enforcement (e.g. the Chicago Police Department), if the individual chooses to do so.
3. Information about the possibility of moving forward with internal discipline, including a summary of how the various applicable policies and procedures would apply in different situations.
4. Information about the possible sanctions or remedies that could result from internal discipline.
5. Information about the importance of preserving evidence - for example, avoiding showering, bathing, changing clothes, washing hands, going to the toilet, or brushing teeth; saving clothing in individual paper bags; and not disturbing anything in the area where the incident occurred.
6. Information about rights of reporting individuals and institutional responsibilities regarding institutional "no contact directives" as well as orders of protection (sometimes called "restraining orders"), no contact orders, or similar lawful orders issued by criminal, civil, or tribal courts.
7. Information about options for-and, if necessary, how DePaul will provide assistance with navigating-getting medical treatment, including the availability of medical forensic examinations at no charge, and other on-campus and community resources, including counseling, health services, mental health services, advocacy, law enforcement and legal assistance. This information is also included in the Resource Appendix to this policy.
8. Information about options for, and available assistance in, changing academic, living, transportation, and working situations, if requested and if reasonably available, on an interim or permanent basis, regardless of whether the individual chooses to further report the incident, or otherwise pursue internal discipline.
For reports received electronically here, this information will be provided within 12 hours.

G. Retaliation

DePaul prohibits retaliation and the threat of retaliation against any person, including complainants, respondents and witnesses, exercising their rights and/or responsibilities in good faith pursuant to this policy, or otherwise participating in any process related to a potential violation of this policy. Claims of retaliation will be investigated and, if substantiated, may constitute a separate policy violation subject to additional discipline or sanctions. More information about DePaul's prohibition against retaliation in the context of discrimination and harassment can be found in the Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy and Procedures. More information about DePaul's prohibition against retaliation generally can be found in the Non-Retaliation policy.

H. Prevention and Education Programs

DePaul University provides a variety of educational programming, including prevention and awareness programming, regarding this policy and sexual and relationship violence generally. At a minimum, this programming includes (a) primary prevention programming for all incoming students and new employees, (b) an annual email to the campus community, (c) annual training for all employees, and (d) ongoing awareness campaigns for students and employees.

Together, these primary programs and ongoing awareness campaigns, at a minimum, include the following elements:

1. Information about the definitions of the various aspects of sexual and relationship violence, including consent, under this policy and Illinois law;
2. Information about the requirements of this policy, including DePaul's prohibition on sexual and relationship violence and prohibition of retaliation, and DePaul's obligation to provide a coordinated, prompt, and equitable response to reports of sexual and relationship violence;
3. Information about reporting options, including confidential reporting resources;
4. Information about the effects of trauma;
5. Information about safe and positive options for bystander intervention that may be carried out by an individual to prevent harm or intervene when there is a risk of sexual or relationship violence against another person; and
6. Information about risk reduction to recognize warning signs of abusive behavior and how to avoid potential risks.

Programming could occur at employee orientations, at student orientations, as part of General Compliance Training, through electronic communications, and through various other formal and informal avenues. Programming will be coordinated by the Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity (OIDE) in collaboration with other departments and offices as appropriate (e.g., the Office of Health Promotion and Wellness, Compliance & Risk Management, Human Resources, etc.)

Medical Forensic Examinations

The following is a list of locations where a medical forensic examination can be completed, often at no cost. Each hospital has a social worker, women's health advocate, and/or domestic violence liaison that can assist those who have experienced sexual or relationship violence.

For survivors of sexual assault, it is recommended that you specify the reason you are requesting an examination, as you should be provided a private room. Many hospitals have Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners (SANE) on staff. SANE nurses have completed special forensic training with sensitivity and knowledge in treating sexual assault survivors while preserving evidence related to an alleged sex crime. Many locations, as specified below, can also provide you with a medical advocate for sexual assault survivors within one hour. These sexual assault advocates are from a local agency, separate from the hospital and police.

Additionally, under the Illinois Crime Victim's Compensation Act, some individuals who have experienced sexual or relationship violence may be eligible for support services and medical reimbursement if the crime is reported within seven (7) days or, in some cases, even longer. Individuals should check with their insurance providers to explore the applicability of this program.

VII. Procedures

DePaul will respond to all reports of sexual and relationship violence in a prompt, fair, and impartial manner. Every report is based on its own facts and circumstances, which can impact the course of response.

The Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity (OIDE) is primarily charged with coordinating responses to sexual and relationship violence. As further detailed below, OIDE will work with other offices to implement responses as appropriate. These responses could include initial assessment; working with law enforcement, if an individual chooses to report to such law enforcement; providing support and resources; investigation; providing interim measures and permanent remedies; and, if applicable, determining policy violations and potential disciplinary response.

A. Initial Assessment

DePaul will make an initial assessment of the reported information and respond to any immediate health or safety concerns raised by the report. Appropriate steps may include implementing reasonably available interim measures to provide for the safety of the individual and the campus community.

B. Options for Response; Confidentiality Requests; Privacy

Some individuals may wish to make a report in order to seek support resources. In all situations, individuals will be offered support, resources and, to the extent reasonable and appropriate, interim measures and permanent remedies.

Some individuals may wish to make a report in order to pursue a disciplinary response.

To the extent possible, DePaul will consider the preferences of the reporting individual, including requests for confidentiality, when determining an appropriate response to a report. For example, Public Safety allows for Jane and/or John Doe reports, which enables an individual to remain anonymous on any Public Safety reports. However, confidentiality cannot be guaranteed in all circumstances. For example, DePaul has an obligation to provide a safe and nondiscriminatory environment for all members of its community and might have to share information about a report to protect the campus community. Likewise, if an individual chooses to pursue a disciplinary response, DePaul has an obligation to afford the responding individual certain procedural protections including notice and an opportunity to respond.

Where DePaul determines that the action taken is inconsistent with a request, DePaul will inform the affected individual about the chosen course of action.

DePaul is committed to protecting the privacy of all individuals involved in a report of sexual or relationship violence. In responding to any report, including implementing interim measures or permanent remedies, investigation, or disciplinary response, DePaul will take steps to protect the privacy interests of all individuals involved in a manner consistent with the need for a thorough review of the allegation and to the extent required or permitted by law.

C. Interim Measures and Permanent Remedies

Regardless of whether a situation involving sexual or relationship violence may result in a policy violation or disciplinary response, and regardless of whether an individual chooses to otherwise report an incident, the Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity (OIDE) will coordinate providing reasonable and appropriate interim measures and permanent remedies. Interim measures may be taken prior to the outcome of any investigation.

Interim measures and permanent remedies may include changing academic, living, transportation, and working situations, if requested and if reasonably available, on an interim or permanent basis. Specific examples could include:

- Access to medical or counseling services;
- Imposition of an institutional no-contact directive and related assistance to support that directive;
- Assistance in obtaining a civil protection order;
- Rescheduling exams or assignments;
- A change in class schedule;
- A change in work schedule or job assignment;
- A change in a student's on-campus residence;
- A change of office or work space;
- A voluntary leave of absence;
- Providing an escort between classes, work or other activities; or
- An interim suspension or other restriction pending the outcome of a conduct proceeding.

The Title IX Coordinator will maintain the privacy of any interim measures and permanent remedies to the extent possible.

All individuals are encouraged to report concerns about the failure of another individual to abide by any restrictions imposed by an interim measure or permanent remedy so that DePaul can consider taking responsive actions as appropriate.

D. Determining Policy Violations and Potential Disciplinary Response
In instances where a report of sexual or relationship violence indicates that a member of the DePaul community may have violated this policy, all determinations as to policy violations and potential disciplinary response will be made through the existing applicable university policies and processes.

Because a violation of this policy will most often also be a violation of the Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy and Procedures, investigation and, except as otherwise detailed below, determinations as to policy violations, will be primarily managed by the Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity using the procedures detailed in the Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy and Procedures. Determinations as to sanctions and disciplinary consequences are dependent on whether the referred individual is a staff member, student employee, faculty member or student.

Report that a staff member or student employee may have violated this policy: A determination as to discipline will be made through the procedures outlined in the Progressive Discipline policy. For student employees, the Student Conduct Process may also apply, as detailed below.

Report that a faculty member may have violated this policy: A determination as to discipline will be made through the procedures outlined in the Faculty Handbook relating to suspension or termination of faculty members for cause.

Report that a student may have violated this policy: A determination as to discipline will be made through the procedures outlined in the Student Conduct Process. As noted in the Student Conduct Process, the Student Conduct Process may also include a preliminary investigation by another office. As noted above, investigations of allegations of sexual or relationship violence will often be conducted by the Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity (OIDE) using the procedures detailed in the Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy and Procedures. The range of potential sanctions for students who are found responsible for violating this policy is detailed in the Student Conduct Process. Students should also familiarize themselves with all of the Student Rights in the Student Conduct Process and other provisions of the Student Conduct Process. This includes, for example, the Amnesty/Good Samaritan policy.

To the extent that a potential policy violation of this policy would not violate the Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy and Procedures, OIDE will work with the appropriate offices, including Human Resources, Academic Affairs, and Student Affairs, to investigate, determine policy violations, and determine sanctions or disciplinary consequences in a prompt, fair, and impartial manner through applicable policies and procedures.

To the extent not already addressed in the above policies and procedures, the process for determining whether a violation of this policy has occurred and for imposing internal discipline involving instances of sexual and relationship violence pursuant to this policy include the following procedural aspects:

1. DePaul will take reasonable measures to complete any process resulting in a determination as to a policy violation within 60 calendar days from the date when a report is received. DePaul reserves the right to extend this time limit, in its sole discretion, in order to ensure a proper review of all material and as circumstances warrant. DePaul will simultaneously inform the complainant and respondent of any extensions and the reasons.
2. All determinations as to whether an individual is or is not in violation of a policy will be based on the standard of "whether it is more likely than not," based on the information available at the time, that the individual is or is not in violation of the policy at issue.
3. Both the reporting individual and the referred student or employee have the opportunity to have an advisor of their choice (including legal counsel) accompany them to any meeting (including hearings) related to making a determination as to whether a policy violation has occurred, or to imposing discipline related to that policy violation. Any individual intending to have an advisor accompany them to a meeting must notify the individual managing the process no later than two business days prior to the meeting (unless a shorter timeframe is deemed feasible by the individual managing the process). The role of the advisor is to act as a support for the student or employee. The advisor does not have a speaking or otherwise active role to play in the process. The university reserves the right to require that any individual select a different advisor if the individual's choice of advisor raises fundamental fairness issues (e.g. there is a conflict of interest with the individual's selected advisor, etc.).
4. The reporting individual and the referred student or employee are simultaneously informed in writing of the outcomes that result from the process, including interim results.
5. The reporting individual and the referred student or employee are simultaneously informed in writing of the possibilities for appealing the decision, if any.
6. The reporting individual and the referred student or employee are simultaneously informed in writing as to any changes in the outcomes from the process.
7. The reporting individual and the referred student or employee are simultaneously informed in writing when the outcomes from the process are final.

Individuals who are charged with implementing investigative and disciplinary processes related to sexual and relationship violence receive annual training on issues related to sexual and relationship violence, and on how to conduct a process that protects safety and promotes accountability.

Other Resources
Although the University encourages individuals to utilize the University's internal complaint process to resolve any complaints, use of this process does not prohibit the filing of a complaint with external agencies at any time. Individuals may choose to file a complaint with various external agencies including, but not limited to, the government agencies listed below.

DePaul University has a long standing commitment to the diversity of its faculty, staff and student body. As a university with a strong Catholic, Vincentian and urban heritage, this commitment is particularly integral to our mission. DePaul University is committed to preserving an environment that respects the personal rights and dignity of each member of its community and providing an environment that is free from all forms of discrimination and harassment.

The Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy provides the overall philosophy and specific approaches for addressing discrimination, harassment, and/or related retaliation issues. It serves to augment other university-wide policies and is in accordance with federal, state, and local laws and regulations. The Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy combines and replaces the predecessor Sexual Harassment Policy and the Anti-Discriminatory Harassment Policy.

IV. Policy History
August 23, 2017:
This policy underwent minor revisions to update links and to clarify elements of the procedures section.
February 06, 2017: Minor updates to Section 504 Grievance Procedure.

May 04, 2016:
This policy was revised to comply with the requirements of the Preventing Sexual Assault in Higher Education Act (110 ILCS 155). Additionally, changes were made to clarify the overall policy and procedures for the community.

September 11, 2015:
This policy was revised to include information regarding DePaul University's Title IX coordinator.

August 04, 2015:
This policy was revised to include gender identity and genetic information in the list of protected statuses.

March 31, 2015:
This policy was revised to include updated reporting requirements under Title IX.

May 02, 2012:
This policy was created from two former University policies: Anti-Discriminatory Harassment Policy and Procedures and Sexual Harassment Policy and Procedures

The revised, combined policy reflects current practice. It is intended to reduce confusion by eliminating redundancies and reflecting current procedures, as they have developed over time. The combined policy replaces two substantially similar policies and procedures that were explained in slightly different ways, and instead provides the university community with one single, self-contained document that provides a comprehensive explanation of all of the anti-discrimination and anti-harassment policies and procedures.

The policies were combined by Elizabeth Ortiz, Vice President for Institutional Diversity and Equity, Barbara Schaffer, AVP of Institutional Diversity and Equity, and Kathryn Stieber, Deputy General Counsel.

VI. Policy

It is the policy of DePaul University that no person shall be the object of discrimination or harassment on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, religion, sex, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, national origin, age, marital status, pregnancy, parental status, family relationship status, physical or mental disability, military status, genetic information or other status protected by local, state, or federal law in its employment or its educational settings. DePaul University reserves the right to take actions that are consistent with its policies and procedures to deal with individuals found to have engaged in harassment, discrimination and/or retaliation in violation of this policy.

A. Related Policies

- DePaul's Guiding Principles on Speech and Expression
- Code of Student Responsibility
- Sexual and Relationship Violence Prevention and Response Policy
- FERPA Compliance
- Faculty Handbook
- Non-Retaliation Policy
- Progressive Discipline
- Reporting Misconduct
B. Prohibited Conduct

Prohibited Discrimination
Examples of discrimination in violation of this policy include treating an employee, student or other member of the University Community differently in the terms and conditions of his or her employment or education or making decisions about a person's employment, compensation, or education based upon a person's race, color, ethnicity, religion, sex, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, national origin, age, marital status, pregnancy, parental status, family relationship status, physical or mental disability, military status, genetic information or other protected status.

Prohibited Harassment
Harassment based on a protected category, as outlined above, is a form of discrimination. Harassment is unwelcome conduct that is based on any of the above described protected categories. Such harassment is prohibited where: 1) enduring the offensive conduct becomes a term or condition of one's academic, working, or living environment, or 2) the conduct is severe or pervasive enough to create an academic, working, or living environment that a reasonable person would consider intimidating, hostile, or abusive.

Minor and isolated incidents (unless extremely serious) generally will not rise to the level of prohibited conduct. To be prohibited, the conduct must create an academic, working, or living environment that would be intimidating, hostile, or abusive to reasonable people.

Depending on the specific circumstances and impact on the workplace or academic environment, examples of harassment in violation of this policy include, but are not limited to, verbal abuse, offensive innuendo, derogatory comments, or the open display of offensive objects or pictures concerning a person's race, color, ethnicity, religion, sex, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, national origin, age, marital status, pregnancy, parental status, family relationship status, physical or mental disability, military status, genetic information or other protected status.

In addition to the examples of prohibited harassment above, sexual harassment warrants further explanation. Sexual harassment also includes, but is not limited to, any unwelcome sexual advances, direct or indirect, requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when submission to such conduct is made or is threatened to be made, either explicitly or implicitly, a term or condition of instruction, employment or participation in other University activity; or

- submission to such conduct is made or is threatened to be made, either explicitly or implicitly, a term or condition of instruction, employment or participation in other University activity; or
- submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used or is threatened to be used as a basis for evaluation in making academic or employment decisions affecting that individual.

Special Considerations - Consensual Relationships
Amorous relationships that might be appropriate in other circumstances present serious difficulties within the University Community. Relationships between individuals in inherently unequal positions (such as teacher and student, supervisor and employee) may undermine the real or perceived integrity of the supervision and evaluation process, as well as affect the trust inherent in the educational environment. Consensual romantic or sexual relationships in which one party is in a position to review the work or influence the career of the other may provide grounds for complaint when that relationship gives undue access or advantage to, restricts opportunities of, or creates a hostile and unacceptable environment for one of the parties to the relationship, or for others.

In such circumstances, consent may not be considered a defense against a charge of sexual harassment in violation of this Policy. The determination of what constitutes sexual harassment depends upon the specific facts and the context in which the conduct occurs.

Prohibited Sexual and Relationship Violence
Sex discrimination and sex harassment can include instances of sexual or relationship violence. For more information on DePaul's policy prohibiting sexual and relationship violence, refer to the Sexual and Relationship Violence Prevention and Response Policy.

Prohibited Retaliation
DePaul prohibits retaliation and the threat of retaliation against any person, including complainants, respondents and witnesses, exercising his or her rights and/or responsibilities in good faith under the Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment policy or federal law, state law, or county law prohibiting discrimination, harassment or retaliation.

For the purposes of this policy, retaliation includes any conduct directed against an individual, or someone affiliated with the individual, on the basis of or in reaction to the exercise of rights accorded and/or defined by this policy, or federal, state, county, or local law that is likely to dissuade the individual from exercising his or her rights in the future.

Claims of retaliation will be investigated and, if substantiated, constitute a separate violation of this policy. Any acts of retaliation will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action, including but not limited to reprimand, change in work assignment, loss of privileges, mandatory training, suspension, and/or termination. In conjunction with this policy, the University also enforces a Non-Retaliation Policy.

DePaul University takes good faith complaints of discrimination, harassment, and/or retaliation seriously. Individuals who knowingly make false allegations under this policy may be subject to disciplinary action, including but not limited to reprimand, suspension, and/or termination.

C. Academic Freedom

DePaul University values the free and open exchange of ideas within an academic community. Often ideas and viewpoints can challenge our assumptions, beliefs or perspectives that are intrinsic to learning and may sometimes prove disturbing or offensive. DePaul University is committed to the principles of academic freedom and inquiry; however, discrimination and harassment as identified in this policy are neither legally protected expression nor the proper exercise of academic freedom.

D. Reporting

Complaint Reporting Options and General Reporting Obligations:
The University strongly encourages individuals who have been the subject of, or have witnessed or are aware of, discrimination, harassment or retaliation, to make a complaint as soon as possible. The ability to investigate a complaint may be impacted if it is not made within a reasonable time period after the alleged occurrence(s).

General Reporting Obligations

Reporting obligations of managers and supervisors
All members of the University who serve in a supervisory capacity are responsible for relaying all complaints of discrimination, harassment, or retaliation that comes to their attention as supervisors and that may be in violation of this policy to the Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity.

Reporting obligations of all employees
Title IX prohibits sex discrimination on the basis of sex in federally funded education programs and activities. Sex discrimination includes sexual harassment, and sexual and relationship violence. Title IX requires that when an individual who is a "responsible employee" learns of sex discrimination, the responsible employee is required to promptly report specific information about the sex discrimination to DePaul's Title IX Coordinator or other appropriate designees.

At DePaul, unless otherwise designated as a confidential reporting resource, all DePaul faculty, staff, and student employees are required to promptly report incidents of sex discrimination and sexual harassment, including sexual and relationship violence that comes to their attention to the Title IX Coordinator.

Title IX Coordinator: The DePaul University Title IX Coordinator is located in the Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity. As appropriate, the Title IX Coordinator works with other offices to address Title IX complaints and other Title IX compliance issues. These offices include Student Affairs, Academic Affairs, Human Resources, Athletics, Compliance and Risk Management and Enrollment Management & Marketing.

The Title IX Coordinator’s Offices are located on the 8th floor of the Daley Building (14 East Jackson). Please call (312-362-8970) or email (titleixcoordinator@depaul.edu) to schedule a meeting. Walk-ins are welcome.

Information to be disclosed: The information that must be disclosed to the Title IX coordinator includes:

- the name of the person who reported the information to the employee;
- the name of the alleged affected individual, if different than the individual reporting.
- the name of the alleged perpetrator (if known),
- the names of others involved; and
- any relevant facts that have been provided, such as date, time, and location.

Information to be provided: For instances involving sexual and relationship violence, the employee will also provide the reporting individual with a Sexual and Relationship Violence Information Sheet.

Other important information: Employees should also:

- Familiarize themselves with confidential reporting resources
- Inform the individual disclosing an issue related to sex discrimination or sexual harassment, including sexual or relationship violence, of their obligation to report any information shared to the Title IX Coordinator.
- Connect the individual with a confidential resource if the individual wishes to speak to someone confidentially.

Employees may also have other reporting obligations pursuant to other DePaul policies including:

- Crime Reporting and Clery Act Compliance
- Reporting Misconduct policy

More information about reporting responsibilities regarding sexual and relationship violence for all DePaul employees and confidential reporting options can be found at this link.

VII. Procedures

Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity Investigation and Resolution Process

When the Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity (OIDE) receives a complete complaint of discrimination, harassment and/or retaliation, including matters related to the Sexual and Relationship Violence Prevention and Response Policy, it will promptly investigate the allegation in a fair and expeditious manner. Every complaint is based on its own facts and circumstances, which can impact the course of OIDE’s investigation. The following is an outline of the procedure generally followed once a complaint has been brought to the attention of OIDE.

Filing a Complaint

Contact OIDE:

Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity
14 East Jackson Boulevard
Suite 800
Chicago, Illinois 60604
(312) 362-6872

The complaint can be submitted in person, in a written statement, electronically or via the OIDE website.

Processing a Complaint
In processing a complaint, OIDE will:

- Acknowledge receipt of the complaint in writing within 10 days of receipt.
- Collect and retain documents and information related to the complaint.
- Conduct a preliminary assessment of allegations to determine whether the alleged conduct, if substantiated, could constitute a violation of this Policy.

Fact-Finding and Notifications
The specific fact-finding and notifications steps may vary depending on the facts and circumstances of the complaint. Generally speaking, OIDE will:

- Simultaneously inform the complainant and the respondent in writing of the initiation of the investigation.
- Collect and review relevant documentation.
- Interview complainant, respondent, and witnesses to the reported event or events.
- Prepare a summary of the investigation.
- Simultaneously inform the complainant and respondent in writing of any outcomes of the investigation, including any interim measures, extensions of time, and the possibilities for appealing the decision, if any.
- Provide written notification to the appropriate University officials of its finding, if necessary.
- In matters involving student respondents, parties will be given a notification as to whether the matter will be moving forward to a Student Conduct Process or not.

Time Frame for Resolution
DePaul will take reasonable measures to complete any process resulting in a determination as to a policy violation within 60 calendar days from the date when an investigation is initiated. DePaul reserves the right to extend this time limit, in its sole discretion, in order to ensure a proper review of all material and as circumstances warrant. As referenced above, OIDE will simultaneously inform the complainant and respondent of any extensions and the reasons.

Resolution of Complaint

When the Respondent's Status is: Staff, Faculty, or Student Employee

A determination as to policy violations will be made by OIDE. All determinations as to whether an individual is or is not in violation of a policy will be based on the standard of "whether it is more likely than not," based on the information available at the time, that the individual is or is not in violation of the policy at issue. If OIDE, following its investigation, determines that the Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment policy has been violated, it will work with the appropriate University officials to recommend appropriate corrective action. Supervisors, department heads, chairs, and other University managers and officers have the responsibility for determining and implementing appropriate corrective action. The OIDE may advise in the implementation of corrective action and may monitor the implementation of the corrective actions.

- Report that a staff member or student employee may have violated this policy: For staff members, the Progressive Discipline policy applies. For student employees, the Student Conduct Process may also apply, as detailed below.
- Report that a faculty member may have violated this policy: The procedures outlined in the Faculty Handbook apply, including Chapter Four of the Faculty Handbook relating to discipline, suspension or termination of faculty members for cause.

When the Respondent's Status is: Student

A determination as to a policy violation and a determination as to sanctions will be addressed through the procedures (administrative hearing and board hearing) outlined in the Student Conduct Process. The range of potential sanctions for students who are found responsible for violating this policy is detailed in the Student Conduct Process. Students should also familiarize themselves with all of the Student Rights in the Student Conduct Process and aspects of the Student Conduct Process. This includes, for example, the Amnesty/Good Samaritan policy.
To the extent that the Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity concludes that other University policies may have been violated by the reported conduct, the appropriate University official(s) will be notified and applicable procedures set forth in the DePaul Student Handbook, the applicable policy, the DePaul Faculty Handbook, or relevant collective bargaining agreements will apply. The parties will be given a written notification as to whether the matter will be moving forward to a Student Conduct Process or not.

Confidentiality
OIDE is committed to balancing the interests of all parties involved in discrimination, harassment, and/or retaliation complaints. To the extent possible, the OIDE will limit the disclosure of information related to the complaint and its investigation. Nonetheless, the OIDE cannot promise confidentiality of any information received in a complaint or during an investigation.

Section 504 Grievance Procedure
Please note that this Policy constitutes the University's Section 504 Grievance Procedure. The Office for Institutional Diversity and Equity (Associate Vice President for Investigations) is the University's Section 504 Coordinator for Grievance Procedures. Any employee, applicant, or student who believes that they may have been discriminated against based on a disability, or retaliated against because they complained about discrimination or because they have requested an accommodation may file a complaint through this Policy.

OIDE does not provide accommodations for physical or mental disabilities. Employees and applicants for employment seeking accommodations for physical or mental disabilities should contact the University's Section 504 Coordinator for Employees (Office of Human Resources' Director, Employee Relations and Engagement). Students and applicants for admissions seeking accommodations for physical or mental disabilities should contact the University's Section 504 Coordinator for Students (Director, Center for Students with Disabilities).

Other Resources
Although the University encourages individuals to utilize the complaint process described above to resolve any complaints, use of this process does not prohibit the filing of a complaint with external agencies at any time. Individuals may choose to file a complaint with various external agencies including, but not limited to, the government agencies listed below.

EXHIBIT C
Student Conduct Process

In this section of the Code of Student Responsibility, you will find information about the Student Conduct Process. The Student Conduct Process protects students and the University by delineating specific procedures for addressing potential policy violations.

A student may violate a policy by engaging in the conduct detailed in the policy or by assisting others with engaging in the conduct detailed in the policy.

In general, the Vice President for Student Affairs, or his/her designees, maintains exclusive authority for imposing sanctions for behaviors that violate the policies in the Code of Student Responsibility and for student violations of University policies.

There are some exceptions to this general statement. For example, Academic Affairs addresses potential violations of academic policies and maintains a separate process for addressing potential violations of the Academic Integrity policy.

The Dean of Students Office within Student Affairs is primarily responsible for managing the Student Conduct Process. Residential Education also manages the Student Conduct Process for certain policy violations by residential students.
Student Rights Within the Student Conduct Process

A student participating in the Student Conduct Process is entitled to the following rights as a guarantee of fundamental fairness:

1. The right to a Student Conduct Process that proceeds in a prompt and equitable manner.
2. The right to be given an opportunity for a hearing in accordance with the Student Conduct Process.
3. The right to a written statement of the alleged violations in sufficient detail to prepare.
4. The right to be accompanied by an advisor.
5. For the complainant(s) and referred student(s), a written statement of the possible sanctions that may be imposed.
6. For the complainant(s) and referred student(s), the right to submit information and witnesses on one's behalf and, to the extent necessary, to question witnesses' statements, whether verbally or in writing.
7. The right to have the Student Conduct Process explained and to ask for clarification of any policies or procedures.
8. The right to have reasonable access to information specific to one's case.
9. The right to have a separate hearing when a single incident gives rise to charges against more than one referred student.
10. The right to speak on one's own behalf (or, in the case of a student organization, for the student organization's officers to speak on the student organization's behalf).
11. The right to promptly know the names of the individuals who will be serving as an Administrative Hearing officer, moderator, on a University Board panel, or reviewing an appeal, and to request a substitution of any such individual for justifiable reason.
12. The right to have proceedings and documentation kept private and confidential. All hearings, proceedings and case information are considered confidential except to those who have a legitimate educational interest in them, or as permitted or required under FERPA, the Clery Act, or any other legal mandate.
13. The right to a written decision, which the University will take reasonable measures to provide within five business days of completion of the last hearing.
14. The right to request an appeal on specific grounds.
15. The right for any student registered with the Center for Students with Disabilities to request accommodations to ensure their full and equal participation in any conduct process and/or proceeding. Accommodation requests are to be made directly to the Dean of Students Office. Accommodations are determined on an individual basis in consultation with the Center for Students with Disabilities.
16. The right to request to bring a language interpreter at the sole expense of the student making the request. The Dean of Students Office must be notified of this request. An interpreter would be an addition to an approved advisor.
University Rights Within the Student Conduct Process

The University reserves the following rights:

1. The right, in accordance with applicable legal mandates, to refer any matter involving a potential violation of criminal or civil law to the proper law enforcement agency.

2. The right to initiate a Student Conduct Process based on reliable information indicating a potential policy violation.

3. The right to sanction a student on an interim basis in accordance with the procedures described in the Student Conduct Process.

4. The right to share the outcomes of the Student Conduct Process as permitted or required under FERPA, the Clery Act, or any other legal mandate.

5. In keeping with its commitment to offer a fundamentally fair process for all students involved in the Student Conduct Process, the right to adapt certain aspects of the Student Conduct Process in specific circumstances, in order to meet the interests of all involved parties, including the University.

6. The right to cease the Student Conduct Process under appropriate circumstances.
Relationship Between the Student Conduct Process, Law Enforcement, and Legal Proceedings

The Student Conduct Process is designed to be educational, not legal, in nature. Rules of evidence and discovery do not apply to the Student Conduct Process. Students should not draw parallel interpretations between the Student Conduct Process and legal proceedings.

The University may proceed with a Student Conduct Process independently of any action taken by law enforcement or local, State or federal courts or government agencies. Similarly, the University may, in its discretion, decide to delay a Student Conduct Process until the conclusion of a court proceeding or other law enforcement or legal process.

The outcome of a legal proceeding is not determinative on the Student Conduct Process.

Students are not required to report incidents to local law enforcement in order for the University to proceed with a Student Conduct Process. The University does, however, reserve the right in accordance with applicable legal mandates, to refer any matter involving a potential violation of criminal or civil law to the proper law enforcement agency.
Failure to Participate

If a complaining student chooses not to participate in the Student Conduct Process as a complainant, the University may proceed with the Student Conduct Process with the University serving as the complainant. The complaining student may choose to participate as a witness or not at all. The hearing officer will render a decision and, if appropriate, impose sanctions, based solely on the information available, without the benefit of any additional information from the complaining student.

If a referred student chooses not to participate or not to fully participate in the Student Conduct Process, the hearing officer, or University Board panel, will render a decision and, if appropriate, impose sanctions, based solely on the information available, without the benefit of any additional information from the referred student.

All students participating in the Student Conduct Process will be provided specific deadlines at various stages of the Student Conduct Process. Failure to respond in a timely manner according to deadlines provided may result in a student's inability to participate in the Student Conduct Process. The University reserves the right to continue with the Student Conduct Process at its discretion.

A student is never required to participate in a Student Conduct Process as a witness. However, all students are encouraged to comply with the Student Conduct Process. Witnesses who provide false or misleading information may have the matter referred to the Dean of Students Office for consideration of a policy violation and subsequent Student Conduct Process.
At DePaul University, the health, safety, and welfare of our students and community are paramount concerns. DePaul hopes that students will alert appropriate officials in the event of any health or safety emergency, specifically including those involving the abuse of alcohol or other drugs, even if violations of University policies may have occurred in connection with such an emergency. DePaul expects that students will, to the degree safe and appropriate, be an active bystander in situations where a fellow community member may need help.

Because the University understands that fear of possible disciplinary actions may deter requests for emergency assistance, the University has adopted the following protocol to alleviate such concerns and promote responsible action on the part of students.

In a situation involving imminent threat or danger to the health or safety of any individual(s), students are urged to (1) contact emergency officials by calling Public Safety or 911 to report the incident, (2) to remain with the individual(s) needing emergency treatment and cooperate with emergency officials, so long as it is safe to do so, and (3) meet with appropriate University officials after the incident and cooperate with any University investigation.

The University will consider the positive impact of taking responsible action in an emergency situation when determining the appropriate response for alleged policy violations that may have occurred prior to or contemporaneously with the emergency notification.

Additionally, students who report in good-faith a violation of another University policy will not generally be subject to sanctions through the Student Conduct Process related to conduct that is revealed in the course of making the report. For example, a student who reports sexual or relationship violence will not generally be subject to sanctions through the Student Conduct Process related to attendant violations related to drug or alcohol use.

Notwithstanding the above, a student may be held responsible for egregious policy violations or policy violations that create a health or safety risk. This could include conduct such as physical violence, hazing, vandalism, harassment or in instances where multiple individuals require medical attention.

Additionally, this protocol does not preclude or prevent action by Public Safety, police or other legal authorities.

Although no sanctions will be imposed through the Student Conduct Process, the incident will be documented and educational interventions may be required as a condition of deferring disciplinary actions or sanctions. Contact with a student's emergency contact may be made at the time of the incident if medical transport of the reporting party is deemed appropriate.
Preliminary Investigations

When the University is made aware of a potential student violation of a policy in the Code of Student Responsibility or another University policy, it may be necessary to conduct an investigation prior to referring the incident to the Student Conduct Process. Such investigations are either conducted by or in collaboration with the Dean of Students Office. Some examples of other offices that may conduct investigations include the Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity, Residential Education, the Office of Student Involvement, Internal Audit, Academic Affairs, and Information Security.

Offices charged with conducting an investigation may gather information, conduct interviews, and solicit materials. Investigations will be conducted with all reasonable speed. At the conclusion of the investigation, an investigator will work with the Dean of Students Office or other appropriate offices to determine whether the Student Conduct Process will begin. To the extent necessary, an investigator will provide information that will become part of a Student Conduct Process or an investigator may participate in the Student Conduct Process as a witness.

A student may choose to have an advisor at any meeting related to an investigation that may give rise to a Student Conduct Process.
Standard for Hearing Determinations

All determinations as to whether a student is or is not in violation of a policy will be based on the standard of "whether it is more likely than not" that the student is in violation of the policy at issue.

A finding of "IN VIOLATION" means that, based on the information available at the time, it is more likely than not that the student is in violation of the policy at issue. A finding of "NOT IN VIOLATION" means that, based on the information available at the time, it is more likely than not that the student is not in violation of the policy at issue.
Overview of the Student Conduct Process

The Student Conduct Process begins when the University receives information that a student's conduct may be in violation of the policies in the Code of Student Responsibility or other University policies.

The University will review the information provided and make a decision that:

(a) It is appropriate to initiate a Student Conduct Process.

(b) More information or investigation is needed before making a determination whether to initiate a Student Conduct Process.

(c) It is not appropriate to initiate a Student Conduct Process at this time.

If a Student Conduct Process is initiated (including after further investigation or information gathering), the Student Conduct Process will proceed as follows:

1. The University will promptly communicate with the relevant parties, including the complainant and the referred student, in order to explain the Student Conduct Process. See details in Initial Meetings.

2. Depending on the circumstances, the University may decide to impose interim sanctions. See details in Interim Sanctions.

3. The University will determine whether the Student Conduct Process will proceed with an administrative hearing or a University Board hearing. This determination will be discussed with the relevant parties during any initial meetings. Factors that contribute to the decision include but are not limited to the type of violation, severity of the incident, consideration for potential likely sanctions, the impact on the larger University community, and the role of the complainant.

4. The University will work with the individuals involved to determine each individual's level of participation in the Student Conduct Process and what role each individual will have in the Student Conduct Process; whether the referred student will be participating in the Student Conduct Process; and whether the complaining individual will serve as a complainant, witness, or not participate at all.

5. The University will hold an administrative hearing or a University Board hearing. See details in Administrative Hearing Process and University Board hearing process.

6. If a referred student is found “IN VIOLATION” of any policy, conduct sanctions will be assigned. See details in Information About Conduct Sanctions.

7. The complainant and the referred student will have the opportunity to appeal all determinations as to policy violations and sanctions. See details in Conduct Appeals Procedures.
Initial Meetings

This section explains the details of the initial meeting of the Student Conduct Process. For a complete overview of the Student Conduct Process go to Overview of the Student Conduct Process.

At the beginning of a Student Conduct Process, both the complainant and the referred student will promptly be offered:

- A detailed explanation of the Student Conduct Process, including student rights within that process, and an opportunity to answer any questions that the student might have about the Student Conduct Process.

- A written statement of the alleged violations in sufficient enough detail to prepare.

- Reasonable access to the information that will be considered throughout the Student Conduct Process.

- Instructions as to next steps in the Student Conduct Process.

- Options regarding level of participation in the Student Conduct Process and roles in the Student Conduct Process, including the consequences of each option.

- Information about the individuals who will participate in managing the Student Conduct Process moving forward (for example, the moderator, administrative hearing officer, University Board panel, etc.) and the opportunity to request a substitution of any such individual because of a possible conflict of interest or other prejudice. All decisions about removal of individuals from their participation in a Student Conduct Process will be made by the Dean of Students or the Dean's designee. All such decisions are final.

- Information about any interim sanctions, if applicable.

If possible, the complainant and referred student will be given the opportunity to participate in a face-to-face meeting, or series of meetings, in order to communicate this information. If this is not possible, information will be communicated via phone, email, or other means.

During initial meetings, the University may also request additional information from the complainant or referred student or otherwise collect additional information.
Interim Sanctions

This section explains the details of interim sanctions in the Student Conduct Process. For a complete overview of the Student Conduct Process go to Overview of the Student Conduct Process.

In order to protect the health, safety, security and well-being of the University community and its members, the University reserves the right to immediately impose interim sanctions at any point during a Student Conduct Process. These interim sanctions could include, for example, a suspension.

In general, the University will impose an interim sanction if it determines that there is:

1. An ongoing threat to an individual, including a complainant or referred student;
2. An ongoing threat to property; or
3. A risk of disruption of University business.

Interim sanctions may not be appealed.

In cases where interim sanctions are imposed, the University will take reasonable measures to ensure that a Student Conduct Process proceeds to a final determination as to whether or not there was a policy violation, and any final sanctions, within ten business days of the imposition of any interim sanctions. However, the University reserves the right to extend this time limit, in its sole discretion, in order to ensure proper review of all relevant material.

During the time that an interim sanction is in place, a student must abide by the requirements of the interim sanction.
Administrative Hearing Process

This section explains the details of an administrative hearing in the Student Conduct Process. For a complete overview of the Student Conduct Process go to Overview of the Student Conduct Process.

If the University determines that an administrative hearing is appropriate, the University will take reasonable measures to ensure that the first session of the administrative hearing takes place within five business days of the conclusion of the initial meetings. However, the University reserves the right to extend this time limit, in its sole discretion, in order to ensure a proper review of all relevant material.

A mutually convenient time for the administrative hearing will be decided upon. If necessary, and at the discretion of the administrative hearing officer, an administrative hearing may take place over the telephone and/or video conferencing. In an administrative hearing a complainant does not attend a meeting with the referred student, however, any relevant information or questions will be relayed between the parties by the administrative hearing officer. The administrative hearing officer will hold as many meetings as necessary.

An administrative hearing will proceed as follows:

1. The administrative hearing officer will confirm that the referred student understands the student's rights.
2. The administrative hearing officer will review all relevant information that has been provided by the complainant, as a result of investigation, etc.
3. The administrative hearing officer and referred student will discuss the alleged violation.
4. The referred student will have an opportunity to give a statement about the alleged violation.
5. The referred student will have the opportunity to provide witness information and, to the extent necessary, to question witnesses' statements, whether verbally or in writing.
6. After the administrative hearing officer has examined all of the information, the administrative hearing officer will determine that the student is or is not in violation of the policy at issue.
7. If the administrative hearing officer finds the student in violation, the administrative hearing officer will determine the appropriate sanctions. The University will take reasonable measures to notify the complainant and referred student of the outcome and sanctions in writing within five business days of the last session of an administrative hearing. However, the University reserves the right to extend this time limit, in its sole discretion, in order to ensure a proper review of all relevant material.
8. The administrative hearing officer will inform the complainant and the referred student of their appeal options.
University Board Hearing Process

This section explains the details of a University Board hearing in the Student Conduct Process. For a complete overview of the Student Conduct Process go to Overview of the Student Conduct Process.

If the University determines that a University Board hearing is appropriate, the University will take reasonable measures to ensure that the first session of the University Board hearing takes place within seven business days of the conclusion of the initial meetings. However, the University reserves the right to extend this time limit, in its sole discretion, in order to ensure a proper review of all relevant material.

A mutually convenient time for the University Board hearing will be decided upon. If requested by a party or otherwise necessary, and at the discretion of the moderator, a University Board hearing may take place entirely over the telephone and/or video conferencing, or with one or more parties participating by telephone and/or video conferencing. The University Board hearing will proceed over as many sessions as necessary, although each session will be limited to no more than three hours.

The moderator will set a date by which all materials for the hearing will be sent to the University Board. Materials turned into the moderator after that date will be sent to the University Board if feasible.

The actual University Board hearing will proceed as follows:

1. The University Board panel will select a chairperson. The chairperson is charged with maintaining an orderly discussion throughout the University Board Hearing and ensuring that there is equal opportunity for both the complainant and the referred student to present their information.

2. The Chairperson will confirm that all students understand their rights.

3. The Chairperson will describe the information before the University Board panel and will make sure that all students have copies of materials as needed.

4. The complainant and the referred student will have an opportunity to give an initial statement about the alleged violation. In cases where a University representative is serving as the complainant, the University representative will present any information that has been made available. The initial statement may be read aloud or submitted in writing. In the interest of time, the University Board panel may place a time limit on the initial statements.

5. If an investigator was utilized prior to the University Board hearing, the investigator will provide an overview of the investigation and answer questions from the panel, complainant and referred student. The investigator will be present for the entirety of the hearing should additional questions arise.

6. Both the complainant and the referred student will have the opportunity to provide witnesses. In cases where a University representative is serving as the complainant, the University representative will present any witness information that has been made available. The University Board panel may also request additional witnesses. Witnesses will provide their information one at a time. A witness may only be present when that witness is providing information. The University may approve the use of written statements from witnesses who are not available to be present in person.

7. The University Board panel may present questions to witnesses who are present at the University Board hearing. If the complainant or the referred student have any questions for witnesses, they may offer those questions to the chairperson of the University Board panel to ask the witness. The University Board panel may decline to ask any question provided. The University Board panel may ask that a witness return later in the University Board hearing for additional questions.

8. Members of the University Board may ask questions to the complainant and the referred student at any time during the University Board hearing. If the complainant or the referred student have any questions for each other, they may offer those... questions to the chairperson of the University Board panel to ask the witness. The University Board panel may decline to ask any question provided.

9. After the University Board panel has reviewed all the relevant information provided in the University Board hearing, the chairperson will ask the complainant and the referred student whether there is any additional information that needs to be considered but that has not already been provided.

10. The complainant and the referred student will have an opportunity to give a final statement about the alleged violation. In cases where a University representative is serving as the complainant, the University representative will simply summarize the information already provided. The final statement may be read aloud or submitted in writing. In the interest of time, the University Board panel may place a time limit on the final statements.

11. The moderator will excuse everyone from the University Board hearing except for the University Board panel and the moderator.

12. The University Board panel will determine that the student is or is not in violation of the policy at issue. A majority vote by the University Board panel will be used to make this determination. The decision will be reviewed with the moderator before being finalized.

13. If the University Board panel finds the student in violation, the University Board panel will determine the appropriate sanctions. Prior to making any determinations about sanctions, the moderator will inform the University Board panel of any previous student conduct matters involving the referred student. A majority vote by the University Board panel will be used to make this determination. The decision will be reviewed with the moderator before being finalized.

14. Typically, the moderator will invite the referred student back into the University Board hearing and the chairperson will announce the decisions of the University Board panel. Typically, the decision will be announced to the complainant by the moderator as appropriate.

15. The University will take reasonable measures to notify the complainant and referred student of the outcome and sanctions in writing within five business days of the last session of a University Board hearing. However, the University reserves the right to extend this time limit, in its sole discretion, in order to ensure a proper review of all relevant material.

16. The moderator will inform the complainant and the referred student of their appeal options.

Student organizations have the same rights as students, modified as necessary to address the group or organizational context.
Information About Conduct Sanctions

This section explains the details of conduct sanctions. For a complete overview of the Student Conduct Process go to Overview of the Student Conduct Process.

The Student Conduct Process is an educational one by which the University strives to instill in its students an understanding that they are responsible for their actions. There are several reasons for imposing conduct sanctions:

1. To educate students and redirect behavior toward a standard more acceptable for members of the University community.

2. To protect the University community from possible harm or injury.

3. To require restitution for property that is lost, stolen or damaged.

In general, conduct sanctions become effective immediately when given. In certain circumstances, the University may delay the effective date of sanctions. Students will be informed of any decision to delay the effective date of sanctions.

Conduct sanctions are determined based on a consideration of the totality of the circumstances. This could include, for example, a student's prior record of conduct; the severity of the incident; and the impact on the community. Students may be assigned a single sanction or multiple sanctions.

As detailed in Emergency Contacts, a student's emergency contacts or other individuals may be made aware of sanctions in certain situations involving violations of university policies or laws related to alcohol and controlled substances.

The following is a list of sanctions that the University may impose on a student or student organization through the Student Conduct Process:

1. Restriction: Restrictions upon a student's University privileges may be imposed for a set period of time. These restrictions may include, but are not limited to, removal from student housing, the denial of the right to represent the University in any way, access to facilities or individuals, parking privileges, and/or participation in certain curricular, co-curricular or extra-curricular activities.

2. Restitution: A student who damages property may be required to pay actual repair or replacement costs. Failure to pay may result in witholding of the student's records and/or additional sanctions.

3. Educational Project: An educational project is a sanction designed to assist the student in better understanding the overall impact of the policy violation. Educational projects might include research papers, the creation of educational materials, or the planning and/or presentation of educational programs related to the policy infraction. Assigned projects may not include physical labor unless they are directly related to the violations(s) and do not cause humiliation or degradation to the student.

4. Alcohol and Other Drug Intervention: A student who is found responsible for violation a policy related to alcohol or controlled substances may be required to meet with the Office of Health Promotion and Wellness and/or participate in an intervention called BASICS (Brief Alcohol Screening and Intervention for College Students).

5. University Reprimand: University reprimand signifies that any further policy violation may result in additional sanctions. It does not restrict the student in any way.
6. University Probation: University probation is a written statement to the student indicating that the student’s behavior is of such a nature as to jeopardize continued enrollment at the University. University probation can be for a specified period of time or for as long as the student is enrolled. Any additional policy violation during the probationary period may result in additional sanctions.

7. Suspension: Suspension is a total separation from the University for a required period of time and/or until particular conditions for readmission are met. Suspension may include various prohibitions regarding a student’s ability to be on University property or participate in University activities. A sanction of suspension is permanently noted on a student’s transcript, regardless of whether or not the student is successfully readmitted at the conclusion of a suspension. At the end of the suspension period and/or once the student can demonstrate that the conditions for readmission have been met, the student may be required to meet with the Dean of Students or other designee before being readmitted to the University.

8. Dismissal: Dismissal is a permanent separation from the University. Dismissal is a permanent bar to readmission to the University. A sanction of dismissal is permanently noted on a student’s transcript. Dismissal may include various prohibitions regarding a student’s ability to be on University property or participate in University activities.

9. Revocation of Admission: Revocation of admission signifies that a student who has previously been admitted to the University, but has not yet matriculated, is no longer admitted for enrollment in the planned term and program. Revocation of admission may be a permanent separation from the University and permanent bar to readmission to the University, or it may be limited to a particular time frame or program. The student may be required to meet with the Dean of Students or other designee before being readmitted to the University.

10. Revocation of Degree: Revocation of degree signifies that the University is withdrawing a degree that has been awarded. Revocation of degree is a permanent separation from the University. Revocation of degree is a permanent bar to readmission to the University. A sanction of revocation of degree is permanently noted on a student’s transcript.

Student organizations are subject to the same sanctions as students, modified as necessary to address the group or organizational context, plus any such other sanctions or outcomes that are deemed appropriate under the circumstances. Other sanctions may be imposed on students or student organizations for policy violations related to processes managed by other University areas.
Conduct Appeal Procedures

This section explains the details of appeals in the Student Conduct Process. For a complete overview of the Student Conduct Process go to Overview of the Student Conduct Process.

Determinations as to whether or not a policy has been violated and sanctions may be appealed through these procedures. Both complainants and referred students may appeal determinations as to policy violations and sanctions. The reason for the appeal process is to guarantee that the situation has been resolved through a fundamentally fair process in accordance with established policies and procedures.

Students will be informed of these appeals procedures, including to whom an appeal should be directed, at the conclusion of an administrative hearing, University Board hearing, or otherwise when a determination of a policy violation is made and/or sanctions are determined.

Typically, appeals from a University Board hearing will be submitted to the Dean of Students, while appeals from an administrative hearing will be submitted to the supervisor of the administrative hearing officer. The individual reviewing an appeal will have had no involvement in the initial determination. Either party will have the opportunity to request the substitution of the individual reviewing an appeal because of a possible conflict of interest or other prejudice.

A complainant or referred student may only appeal the determination as to a policy violation or sanction on the following three grounds:

1. A substantial procedural error occurred that unreasonably impaired a fair process or rendering of a determination or sanction, and that made the process or the final decision fundamentally unfair.

2. New information of a substantive nature that was impossible to have been considered at the time of the hearing or determination has been discovered, and it would be fundamentally unfair to not consider the information.

3. The initial sanction(s) are fundamentally unfair, disproportionate, or inappropriate.

In order to appeal, the complainant and/or referred student must submit a written request for appeal to the designated individual within five business days of being notified of the initial decision.

The individual designated to review the appeal may decide that the sanctions imposed should not go into effect until the appeal process is completed. Complainants and referred students should understand, however, that, unless otherwise stipulated, sanctions are considered in effect once a hearing is completed, regardless of whether an appeal is requested.

The individual designated to review the appeal will make a determination that:

1. The appeal is denied because none of the grounds for an appeal above have been met.

2. The appeal is granted because one or more of the grounds for an appeal have been met.

The designated reviewer will take reasonable measures to notify the complainant and/or referred students of the appeal determination within five business days of when the University receives the appeal. However, the University reserves the right to extend this time limit, in its sole discretion, in order to ensure a proper review of all relevant material.

If an appeal is granted, then the individual designated to review the appeal will determine whether the matter can be resolved without a new hearing (for example, modification of sanctions so that they are not fundamentally unfair or inappropriate) or whether a new hearing is necessary. If a new hearing is necessary, the University will determine whether this hearing will be an administrative hearing or a University Board hearing. All hearings that take place after an appeal has been granted will proceed in accordance with established procedures.

All decisions regarding whether an appeal will be granted are final. If the appeal is denied, then all sanctions imposed will remain in effect.

Student Conduct Records

Student conduct records are maintained in accordance with the University's Records Retention Schedule. Specifically, student conduct records from a Student Conduct Process that did not result in a sanction of dismissal or suspension are retained for ten years after a student’s graduation or last date of attendance.

In accordance with the University Records Retention Schedule, transcripts are retained permanently. As such, student conduct records from a Student Conduct Process that resulted in a sanction of dismissal or suspension are retained permanently.

The University may also report disciplinary matters that remain unresolved and pending at the time a student left or withdrew from the University. Records of pending matters are kept indefinitely; once resolved, they are kept and maintained according to the policy stated above.

The University will release student conduct records and the information in those records only as permitted or required under FERPA, the Clery Act, or any other legal mandate.
Additional Procedures Regarding Sexual and Relationship Violence

In addition to the procedures in the Student Conduct Process, students should also consult the Sexual and Relationship Violence Prevention and Response policy for additional procedural information for Student Conduct Process matters involving a potential violation of that policy.

In order to be eligible to conduct an administrative hearing, sit on a University Board panel, or hear an appeal, involving a violation of the Sexual and Relationship Violence Prevention and Response policy, an individual must also receive at least 8 hours of annual training on issues related to the issues detailed in that policy. A sufficient number of individuals will receive this annual training such that substitutions of personnel and University Board panel members for conflict of interest and other matters can occur as needed.

Title IX:
Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 ("Title IX") prohibits discrimination based on sex, which includes sexual and relationship violence at any federally funded education program or activity. When the University receives a complaint of sexual and relationship violence or discrimination, it will respond in a prompt and equitable manner, consider and process every complaint based on its own facts and circumstances, and prohibit retaliation against anyone for raising complaints or participating in a process related to Title IX. DePaul’s complete Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment policy can be found at http://go.depaul.edu/arah

Sexual and Relationship Violence:
DePaul’s Sexual and Relationship Violence Prevention and Response Policy (SRV) strictly prohibits sexual and relationship violence and threats of sexual and relationship violence, which is defined in DePaul’s policy. Individuals of any sex, sexual orientation, or gender identity may experience sexual or relationship violence. In all instances, DePaul encourages reporting of unwelcome conduct whether or not it appears to meet the definitions as set forth in DePaul’s policy. With a report, DePaul can assist in identifying resources and available courses of action. DePaul’s complete Sexual and Relationship Violence Prevention and Response policy can be found at http://go.depaul.edu/srvpolicy

Reporting Rights:
You have the right to report an incident of sexual or relationship violence to the university, law enforcement, or both. You also have the right not to make a report.
On Campus Reporting Options:

Emergency Reporting:
- Public Safety: The Public Safety Office is open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.
  - Lincoln Park campus: 773/325-7777

Non-Emergency Reporting:

Responsible Employees:
- All DePaul faculty and staff who have not otherwise been designated as confidential reporting resources (defined on following page) are “responsible employees.” Title IX requires that when a responsible employee learns of sex discrimination, including sexual or relationship violence, that individual is required to promptly advise the Title IX Coordinator or other appropriate designees. Because of this, please note that, although DePaul takes survivor confidentiality very seriously, confidentiality cannot be guaranteed when informing DePaul employees who have not otherwise been designated as confidential reporting resources of incidents of sexual or relationship violence.
DePaul is committed to protecting the privacy of all individuals involved in a report of prohibited conduct. In any report, investigation or resolution of a report, every effort will be made to protect the privacy interests of all individuals involved in a manner consistent with the need for a thorough review of the allegation and to the extent required or permitted by law. Information will only be shared with those employees who “need to know” in order to assist the review, investigation, resolution or remediation of the report.

DePaul takes confidentiality very seriously and takes steps to protect confidentiality to the extent possible by law. Information shared with designated confidential campus or community professionals cannot be revealed without express permission, or as otherwise permitted or required by law. Designated confidential reporting resources are Survivor Support Advocates at the Office of Health Promotion and Wellness, University Counseling Services, University Ministry, Student Legal Services and the University Ombudsperson. More information about other on-campus confidential reporting resources can be found at http://go.depaul.edu/srv. Although DePaul aims to honor requests for confidentiality where possible, there may be times where the University will have to move forward with the Student Conduct Process or other response even if an individual declines to participate.
Survivor Support Advocates are designated as confidential advisors. They can provide anyone who has had an experience with sexual or relationship violence with a safe, confidential, and non-judgmental space to receive support. Staff can connect individuals with on- and off-campus resources, such as Student Legal Services, confidential counseling with University Counseling Services or recognized religious leaders engaging in pastoral care in University Ministry; medical/legal/law enforcement options, including obtaining orders of protection and no contact orders or obtaining medical forensic examinations at no cost; safety planning and self-care; and alterations to transportation and working situations if requested and reasonably available. They can also assist with notifying campus authorities and local law enforcement about incidents of sexual and relationship violence. You are entitled to decline notification to campus authorities or local law enforcement. Scheduled appointments and walk-ins are welcome.
DePaul University is committed to providing a prompt and equitable investigation and resolution to issues of sexual and relationship violence. For students, this includes the Student Conduct Process.

Processing and Resolving Complaints:

Student Conduct Process:

- Information about the Student Conduct Process (SCP) can be found at http://go.depaul.edu/scprocess
- A survivor may serve as the complainant or as a witness in the SCP.
- The survivor and referred student are allowed to have an advisor of their choosing, including an attorney, throughout the SCP.
- DePaul prohibits retaliation against anyone raising complaints or participating in a process under Title IX.
- DePaul uses a “more likely than not” standard in its SCP to determine if a violation occurred.
- Sanctions imposed may include probation, no contact restrictions, suspension, or dismissal.
- All employees who respond to sexual and relationship violence and participate in making policy determinations through the SCP regarding incidents of sexual and relationship violence have undergone appropriate training on an annual basis.
- At the conclusion of the SCP, both parties are simultaneously notified in writing of the outcome, appeal rights, if any changes are made to an outcome, and when an outcome is final.

Right to Request Interim Measures:

The Title IX Coordinator can assist in obtaining interim protective measures and accommodations for individuals involved in reports of sexual and relationship violence when requested and reasonably available, including changes to academic, living, dining, working, and transportation situations. Such options are available regardless of whether a survivor reports to local law enforcement or pursues internal disciplinary options.
